Dragsholm Castle is Denmark's best hotel and restaurant

Dragsholm Castle has just been declared winner of Årets Bo og Spis - this year's best place to eat and stay - by the best guide to hotels and restaurants in the land, Den Danske Spiseguide.

"I am simply so proud. It is a huge honour to be given this award. We have undergone rapid changes over the past few years, and we have changed and sharpened the profile of the Castle's kitchen.

At the same time, extensive renovations have given the Castle and its surroundings a new lease of life. To us, being award this prize demonstrates that it is possible to establish Denmark's best hotel in a listed 13th century building," says Dragsholm Castle's Managing Director, Mads Bøttger.

Denmark's best hotel and restaurant has had a tremendous year, what with the opening of the new eatery, Spisehuset, the inauguration of the moat alterations and the new car park - not to mention the park, the new herb garden and a significant increase in the number of visitors from far and near.

The recipe of Dragsholm's success is that the Castle is not just a restaurant or a hotel or a museum.

Along with the highly capable staff and a new board of directors, Mads Bøttger has worked hard over the last few years to make the Castle a very special experience for visitors. Unique weddings, gourmet dinners inspired by Nordic tradition, treasure hunts for the children, a Christmas bazaar, conferences and seminars for the Danish government are just a few of the many experiences the year has had to offer.

"We want to give our guests an all-embracing experience; to give them a taste of the surroundings and the opportunity to experience a piece of living Danish cultural heritage. Staking on Nordic cuisine means that we use local produce from our own garden or from local growers to create a sublime, distinctive culinary experience.
